Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurThe crew of the spaceship Nostromo is awakened from cryogenic sleep to investigate a mysterious alien transmission. On a nearby planet they discover a derelict craft, and a chamber filled with eggs... thousands of them, stretching as far as the eye can see. When they return, they bring with them a creature that will teach them the true meaning of fear. For as long as they survive. This groundbreaking adaptation by science fiction master Alan Dean Foster captures the action and sheer terror of the film, transferring it to the printed page and setting a standard that still exists today.Revue de presse"Fosters treatment of the source material has only enhanced my appreciation for this classic story." - Blogcritics "The book was well written, it filled in a few gaps in the film that I didn't know needed to be filled until I read them, and it put the film in a different context, which may color my next viewing. If you consider yourself a fan of the film, it's worth checking out." - Top Hat Sasquatch "A hell of a fun and terrifying read. It's one I recommend to anyone who loves the film or a good old-fashioned sci-fi romp through the hell in our stars." - Ravenous Monster In text form the primal dread conjured by its events and themes is as timeless as the cold and empty darkness from which it spreads. 9/10. - Starburst "The official novelization is a stroll-back to memory lane of sweat-inducing horrors. Retrenders "The official novelization is a stroll-back to memory lane of sweat-inducing horrors." - Retrenders An open door to the ALIENS universe that offers the curious even more information about the dangerous world of the films. Suvudu Worthy to be on your shelf if you consider yourself a fan of the film. Retroist "Manages to capture the emotion and terror of the film." - Geek Girl Project "As timeless as the movie that spawned it" - Den of Geek Presentation de l'diteur The crew of the spaceship Nostromo is awakened from cryogenic sleep to investigate a mysterious alien transmission.
